Ex. President Gets Summons to Fort, Clapp and Stubbs Open Appear at Mineola to Do Jury Duty.

By Telegraph to The Tribune.] Oyster Bay, March 2.-Mr. Roosevelt stoutly denied to-day the report from Washington that he had told Secretary Meyer of the Navy and Secretary Stimgon of the War Department that he positively would not be in the running for the Presidential nomination. "They couldn't have said that,"

The colonel explained that he had talked over the whole matter with the two secretaries and that both thoroughly understood his position. Secretary Meyer and Secretary Stimson were at Sagamore Hill a few weeks ago, and his letter to Frank Munsey, in which he eight delegates. said he was not a candidate, but that he would do nothing to tie his hands, and no one could tell what the situation might develop. "Scotty" said it was the one best bet that the colonel would not serve as a juror, because he was either legally exempt or would offer a good and sufficient excuse.

Unmindful of such little annoyances as the weather might present, the former President spent most of the day out of doors. He rode horseback 'cross country for two hours in the forenoon and and fields later in the day. A crackling wood fire burned cheerily in the hearth in the candidate's library when he returned to receive the newspaper men late in the afternoon.

Roosevelt and speeches by ex-Governor Fort of New Jersey, Governor Stubbs of Kansas and Senator Clapp, of Minnesota, signalized the opening of the Roosevelt Progressives' New England campaign in Tremont Temple to-night. In the letter, which was addressed to Thomas F. Mr. Roosevelt declined, with some heat, to comment on the stories published in this morning's papers that the delegates to the national convention were swinging to President Taft on account of the connection of George W. Perkins and Medill McCormick, Roosevelt workers, with the Harvester Trust. Colonel Roosevelt appeared to believe such stories were too preposterous for serious consideration. It is understood he has had ample assurances to the contrary.

A cold, raw wind swept up Sagamore Hill to-day, and may have had something to do with keeping away the usual coterie of visitors. Ex-Congressman Landis, of Indiana, was about the only risitor who braved the gale on the hill, and he did not come until evening.

Fort Points Out Mistakes.

Among the mistakes of the last three years has been our failure to keep faith with the people, who expected that there would be a downward revision of the tariff. The revision was not a revision downward. The President should never have temporized with the Payne-Aldrich tariff. Mr. Stimson did not want to say anything more for quotation about his call on the former President, but he made no secret of the fact that he believed the stories of Mr. Roosevelt's seeking the Republican nomination against Mr. Taft were manufactured out of whole cloth.

He said he wanted his answer to the question to make that attitude clear, and he hoped he had accomplished that.

"I do not know of a single district in Massachusetts where there is doubt as to the outcome," said Representative McCall at the White House to-day. "The people of Massachusetts are taking this matter pretty seriously, as they have a right to do. It is getting to be a sad condition of affairs in the United States when there is only man able to run the government or willing to give the people what they are entitled to. "That would mean that judges would not be necessary at all and that law would be the power and wishes of one man. There are 50,000 men able enough to do right by the people in the White House, and yet the idea is disseminated everywhere that without Roosevelt things will go wrong. That is not true, and the masses of the people of Massachusetts are so certain

Your letter reached me just as I have been muking a postal card canvass with a view of ascertaining the sentiment of the electorate in this locality as regards President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt. Returns to date show that President Taft is in the lead. A curious and interesting fact is that the Taft vote has materially increased since the announcement of Mr. Roosevelt's Columbus speech and the declaration of his candidacy. Public sentiment as expressed personally at this time is almost wholly favorable to the President. Such sentiment as accrues to Mr. Roosevelt is largely contributed by what we might term the socialistic class. It is my judgment that the 31st Congress District will give President Taft a solid delegation. Bumphreys' Seventy-Seven
